CLIENT SUCCESS STORY: ASSURIA

THE COMPANY

For over 15 years, Reading-based Assuria has provided trusted cybersecurity software solutions that power Security Operations Centres, IT Protective Monitoring services and internal SIEM services to SMEs and large enterprises in almost every business sector.

THE PARTNERS

Assuria was looking to extend its partner network to accelerate growth. Ideal potential partners would be tech businesses that already offer cybersecurity consultancy or software, and managed services companies looking to add cybersecurity services to the mix.

THE OFFER

Partners have the opportunity to add a new and profitable revenue stream in one of the fastest growing segments of the tech market. Assuria fully supports its partners to set up and manage their own Security Operations Centre.

THE RESULT

As a result of the programme, Assuria is in discussions with several potential partners and was still receiving enquiries months after the programme closed.

TECHMARKETVIEW INNOVATION PARTNER PROGRAMME (A) assuria www.assuria.com

Break into the fast-growing Managed Security Services market with Assuria

TechMarketView is helping UK-headquartered cybersecurity software developer Assuria expand its partner network.

If you are already providing managed technology or other key services to your clients and want to offer more Managed Detection and Response (MDR) services (either internally from your own Security Operations Centre (SOC) - which Assuria will help you build), apply now to join Assuria's SOC Partner Programme.

Virtual pitch sessions

We will be running a series of pitch sessions during week beginning 17th April 2021 to select companies that are best qualified to become part of the growing SOC Partner Network.

Application form: www.techmarketview.com/ASSURIAIPF2021

Applications close on Friday 12th March 2021

Full terms & conditions are available on the TechMarketView website at www.techmarketview.com/ASSURIAIPF2021

Let Assuria help you establish your own scalable and highly cost effective MSP operation using Assuria's SOC Management Platform and Business Support Package.

Cybersecurity threats and attacks are rising. With smaller organisations processing sensitive data and personally identifiable information (PII) increasingly vulnerable to cyber threats, now is the time to grab your share of the rapidly expanding market for Managed Security Services (MSS).

More and more organisations without in-house security skills are turning to Managed Security Service Providers to protect them from cybersecurity attacks - and you could be one of them!

Here is an opportunity to create new revenue and profit streams for your business.

WHAT ASSURIA OFFERS PARTNERS

- Assuria's publicly proven cybersecurity MDR software including SIEM, EDR and XDR
- A fully tested and validated SOC Management Platform & tool of the best security controls
- Proven processes to help you deliver enterprise class MDR managed services to client organisations of almost any size
- A full support to planning, marketing and running your own SOC operation
- Marketing and business materials to help you build a profitable MSP service
- Experience, training and support to get you up and generating revenue quickly
- Low operating costs to optimise profit

HOW TO SUCCEED

- Assuria helps you build your MSP business plan and establish credibility using a detailed book
- Using content, sales enablement, content analysis and an on-boarding tool to kick off the project
- Assuria provides initial technical and commercial assistance to help build a SOC centred around your MSP business
- We make the upfront investment needed and from the ongoing fee with you - we don't make money unless you do
- We continue to support you as you grow your MSP business

Leveraged access to decision makers at potential partner organisations

Assuria Cofounder and CEO Terry Pudwell engaged TechMarketView to help build out his partner network, the key to the company's growth. Assuria is highly regarded by its partners but generally flies 'under the radar' in the cybersecurity services market, making it more challenging to get the attention of decision makers in potential partner organisations. TechMarketView tailored its Innovation Partner Programme to significantly enhance Assuria's market visibility in order to overcome the 'who is Assuria?' challenge and attract potential partner organisations to engage with the company. TechMarketView set up a series of 'Meet Assuria' sessions over three days for decision makers in potential partner organisations to book an e-meeting slot with Terry. As a result, Terry was able to present Assuria's partnership opportunity to decision makers in several organisations over the course of a matter of days rather than the many months this would have usually taken.

"The 'Meet Assuria' TechMarketView Innovation Partner Programme has been a great learning experience for us. Working through the various approaches with TechMarketView has improved our own understanding of how to go to market with our Security Operations Centre platform proposition and we've strengthened our messaging as a result. I'm sure we're going to see some new partners out of this, both directly from the programme itself as well as potentially through the mailshots that we sent to our existing contacts promoting the programme. We have undoubtedly increased our visibility by orders of magnitude through the programme, and our credibility as well."

Terry Pudwell, Cofounder & CEO, Assuria
