What our clients say...

"FinancialForce has worked with TechMarketView on a number of lead generation campaigns with successful business results. Featuring in the daily newsletter allows us to target the right kind of audience particularly relevant for our cloud software business. In addition, advertising in the way allows us to raise awareness of our brand in the marketplace and promoting our own key events means we have the opportunity to engage with TechMarketView subscribers face to face."

David Pinches, Director of Marketing, EMEA, FinancialForce

"Fujitsu's experience in advertising in the daily e-newsletter produced strong results for our business. The readership is highly targeted and the open rates for the newsletter are high, so the reach we achieved through our five-week activity was excellent. The click-through rates to our website were twice what we typically expect, meaning that TechMarketView subscribers saw and engaged with our content. I consider this a cost-effective medium for reaching a highly targeted audience."

Simon Carter, Executive Director of Marketing, Fujitsu

"Knowing that TMV's daily eNewsletter, UKHotViews, is viewed by the most senior executives of the largest SITS players, emerging SMEs, the press & Government users & CIOs, we have used HotViews to promote our business and events. Each time we have seen an increase in traffic to our website and bookings to our events, which in turn creates better networking for all."
